WASHINGTON, July 21.—Determined bi-partisan opposition forces rapidly whittled President Roosevelt's $3,460,000,000 lending program toward the splinter stage today.

Worried administration leaders granted change after change as Republicans and conservative Democrats demanded virtual emasculations of the program as the price of early adjournment of Congress.

Shirt-sleeved legislators in Senate and House banking committees struggled with versions of legislation as they strove to take the big program to the Senate floor in bill form next week. Even if this is accomplished, so many additional amendments from the floor have been promised that adjournment before August 5 was considered doubtful.

G. O. P. Don't Like Program

The Republicans don't like the program at all, but do want to go home, and if their objections are largely met, will speak for the record against the bill and let it come to a vote with passage assured. Democratic insistence on provisions now bitterly opposing hard fight with adjournment indefinitely delayed.

Believes Evidence Seen
Of Plant Life On Mars

(International News Service)

BLOEMFONTEIN, South Africa, July 21.—Successful color photographs of distant Mars taken by an American astronomer today provided first apparently substantial evidence that plant life exists upon the planet.

The plates were made by Earl C. Slither, brother and collaborator of Dr. Vesto Melvin Slither, chief of the Flagstaff, Ariz., Lowell observatory.

36 Million Miles Away
The planet, although 36 million miles away, is currently closer to earth than it has been in 24 years and is especially visible from South Africa where Slither is carrying out a series of intensive studies of Martian phenomena.

Slither's theory that vegetation lives on Mars is based upon observations, clearly recorded on the photographs, that show the dark area of Mars known as the "great eye" (solis lacus), has assumed new shape.

The changes in outline of the area, which shows up as a vast dark

Mystery In Identity
Of Advisor Who Told
Dr. Smith To Take Flight

(International News Service)

NEW ORLEANS, July 21.—Identity of the person who "advised" the flight of Dr. James Monroe Smith, resigned president of Louisiana State University, remained cloaked in mystery today, as rumor had it that the federal grand jury was contemplating additional indictments.

The question of who advised Dr. Smith came to the forefront through his attorney, filed a petition in federal court seeking his release from federal custody on the ground that he has been subjected to "cruel and unusual" treatment.

Advised To Leave

In his petition Dr. Smith, who now faces 24 indictments in Baton Rouge parish, 11 charges in New Orleans and one federal mail fraud charge, declared he was "advised" to leave the state of Louisiana and was given to understand and was of honest belief that there was no foundation for the institution of any criminal proceedings against him, but on the contrary, was informed that he was being released.

REGULATION OF
WATERWAYS ISSUE

Trucking Interests And Railroads Press Their
Side Of Controversy

WASHINGTON, July 21.—With powerful lobbies working for and against the measure, the Lea railroad-relief bill was placed before the house today for debate.

The bill aroused the opposition of waterways and trucking interests by bringing waterways under the jurisdiction of the Interstate Commerce Commission. It directs the commission to regulate rates of the three transportation agencies to prevent cut-throat competition.

Labor Union Battle

Twenty powerful railroad labor unions were battling for the measure while the railroad men, led by A. P. Whitney, opposed it. Lobbies were actively at work in behalf of the railroads, railroad investors, the motor trucking and waterways industry.

The fight has split the administration. Chairman Lea of the house interstate commerce committee announced that President Roosevelt favors I. C. C. regulation of all transportation.

In spite of the president's attitude, Secretary of War Woodring, Secretary of Agriculture Wallace and Maritime Commission Chairman Emory S. Land condemned proposed regulation of waterways.

To Aid All Transportation

Lea declared that the measure is designed to aid all forms of transportation. He denied that it is aimed at strangling the waterways to boost railroad traffic.

The bill expands the power of the RFC to aid railroads through loans.

Hatch Bill Gets

Measure Barring U. S. Employees From Political Activity Back To Senate

ORIGINAL AIM OF
BILL IS REVIVED

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, July 21.—With friends of President Roosevelt charging that the legislation is aimed at the third term drive, the controversial Hatch bill barring federal employees from political activity, was thrust back in the lap of the Senate today following a hectic night session that ended with the house passing the measure 243 to 133.

The immediate problem before the senate managers of the bill was whether to accept drastic house amendments to the measure and send it to the White House, or seek a conference with the house for a compromise of differences.

The author of the bill, Senator Hatch (D) New Mexico, studied the changes, most of which he thought would be acceptable, in an effort to reach a decision during the day. The Senate passed the bill in different form in May.

Controversial Issues

Britain Welcomes
Hitler Statement

(International News Service)
LONDON, July 21.—The British government today welcomed Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler's declaration that a peaceful solution of the Danzig problem is possible, but reiterated its determination to fight if Poland feels her independence threatened.

Because the statement was made by a peace spokesman and not contained in an official diplomatic interchange, Great Britain could not take official cognizance of it.

It was pointed out in responsible circles, however, that Britain's position had been perfectly clear by Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain, Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax and others.

Britain would welcome peaceful negotiations between Poland and Germany and always would be ready to lend its good offices in such consultations.

But in the event Poland decides to fight to preserve her independence, it was said, Britain will be bound to fight with her.

Conservative circles termed the German statement as a manoeuvre to create Polish suspicion of Britain's real intentions and thus weaken the "democratic anti-aggression front."

Arabs Kidnap Two—Free Father

REV. JACOB GOLDNER REV. GEROULD GOLDNER

British royal air force planes and police dogs hunted the band of Arabs who kidnaped Rev. Jacob Goldner of Cleveland, O., and his son, Rev. Gerould Goldner, at Wadi Nar, Palestine. American Missionary
Still Held By Bandits

(International News Service)

JERUSALEM, July 21.—A young American missionary, the Rev. Gerould R. Goldner of Cleveland, O., was held today in a hidden cave in the Moab hills by Arab kidnapers awaiting payment of $5,000 ransom.

The 29-year-old missionary graduate of Yale Divinity school and pastor of the Mogadore, O., church, was kidnaped with his father, the Rev. Jacob Goldner, 67, as they jogged along the dusty road from Jerusalem to Jericho enroute to Wadi Naar on donkey back.

Armed Bedouins swooped down upon the Americans, seized them and dragged them struggling to the cave where one of the assailants in broken English told the elder Goldner to go back to Jerusalem and raise the ransom.

The $5,000, the tribesmen insisted, must be paid in small silver coins. Apparently having heard of kidnappers being traced by serial numbers on ransom bills, the Arabs sought to avoid detection.

The Arabs warned the father he must return to the cave alone and that any alarm given the police might cost the life of his son.

A wife and child await news of the fate of the young missionary in Cleveland.

Friendly Arabs, bearing gifts of rich honey, grains and fattened fowl with which to placate the kidnappers, sought to contact their fellow tribesmen to obtain the young missionary's release.

Move By Hitler Today Is

BERLIN, July 21.—In a move without precedent in the recent troubled history of Europe, Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler let it be known today that he looks for a peaceful solution of the Danzig problem, with Great Britain compelling Poland to back down and hand the free city over to the Reich.

Through an official spokesman, the Fuehrer announced that Germany's political barometer is "100 per cent against war," and his own personal viewpoint was set forth in these words:

Indications For Peace

"All indications point to peace." The spokesman left no doubt as to Hitler's unrelenting determination to extend his domain into the free city at the mouth of the Vistula river, but he insisted that as time passes both Britain and Poland would be compelled by force of circumstances to abandon their present resolute attitude and hand over Danzig "without a shot being fired."

Germany is not prepared to negotiate with Poland on the Danzig issue, the spokesman said. The Reich stands firm on Hitler's declaration before the Reichstag on April 28 that "Danzig is German and must return to Germany."

A peaceful solution is still considered "possible," the spokesman said, "but this can be achieved only if Poland backs down from its present stand."

It is assumed in Nazi Germany, the spokesman said, that England will again turn the scales in favor of Germany.

One reason why our fruit growers have to spray their trees so generously is because there are not enough birds. PA News can remember when fine crops of peaches, plums, apples, pears and other fruits could be grown without spraying. In those days there were plenty of birds, especially woodpeckers, which are one of the most useful of all the bird families. Red-headed woodpeckers used to be more common than robins today. In the woodpecker family is included the flicker, which is one of the worst enemies of grubs and insects. The flicker operates on the ground as well as on trees, and what he does to ants is plenty.

Have you even been in the dumps? Not mental, but physical; the kind where tin cans hobnob with glass bottles, and decrepit ice cream freezers bounce over old bed springs. There are several such places around New Castle, and the topography of neighborhoods is being changed by them. What may have once been a hollow may now be a level lot with a house on it. One of the biggest dumps is in the Croton district where a big hollow is being slowly filled up. Many discarded articles of value are to be found on dumps and there are men and boys who make a practice of raking through the debris every day.

You may think this is a tall story, but it is a true one, for it is told by none other than M. B. Hogue, County Welfare Director, whose record for truth and veracity has never been impeached. ### NO CONFIRMATION IN OTHER SOURCES

(International News Service)
TOKYO, July 21.—Official announcement that "some progress towards agreement" had been made in Anglo-Japanese negotiations gave rise to hopes today in British quarters an acceptable formula can be arrived at for termination of friction between the two nations in the far east.

The announcement was made in a formal communique following a meeting between Foreign Minister Hachiro Arita and British Ambassador to Tokyo Sir Robert Leslie Craigie.

A report that Arita and Craigie had reached an agreement upon the general questions forming the background of the Tientsin, focal point of Anglo-Japanese difficulties, was published by the official Japanese news agency, Domei.

This report, however, went unconfirmed in other quarters.

The conversations are to be continued tomorrow.

Long a question puzzling scientists and astronomers, existence of plant life on the planet advances Martian knowledge by tremendous strides. Most scientists agree, however, that while vegetation may be present on the planet, the possibility of animal life also exists is very remote and generally discredited.

Variances in temperature from about 65 degrees above zero to about 110 or 115 below would make animal life impossible.

Dr. Smith resigned from L. S. U. on June 25, and then followed a series of charges that he had used forged and unauthorized university bonds in an attempt to make himself master of the world's wheat markets.

Former Gov. Richard T. Leche, who personally received the resignation of Dr. Smith, flatly denounced the allegations in the petition as "nonsense and untrue" and "absurd on the face of it."

Although a corps of federal agents was conducting its multiple investigations in utmost secrecy, reports persisted that the grand jury would return at least one new indictment today.

Asked directly on this, O. John Rogge, assistant United States attorney general, said:

"The federal government is only interested in making a fair and unprejudiced investigation, and when we find instances of law violations we will ask for indictments. But when that will be I cannot say."

So far the federal grand jury has issued only one report, a single indictment charging five persons high in administration circles with mail fraud.

The five, all of whom will be arraigned Monday before Federal Judge Wayne G. Borah, are Seymour Weiss, hotel man and confidante of the late Huey P. Long; Louis C. fifteen feet deep and skiers still enjoying winter sports. Earlier in the season snow in the valley had been 150 feet deep, according to the stories told Mr. Hogue. Many historical points of interest were visited in Boston and other cities.

With the swimming season in full blast, there is a tragic lesson in the death of Lawrence Peck, who was drowned a few days ago in Pymatuning dam. The point to this story is that Peck had the reputation of being one of the best swimmers in that section. Yet he attempted a feat beyond his endurance, that of trying to swim across a mile-wide reservoir. There was a strong wind and choppy waves. He was drowned when part way across. This is but another proof that even expert swimmers are susceptible to cramps or fatigue. If this be true of experts, what about those who are not in that class? It's dangerous to swim beyond your depth, unless there is somebody near who can assist you in case of an emergency.

Secretary A. Clyde Shoaff, of the New Castle Fair Association who announced recently that there would be a public wedding at the fair this year, has another brilliant idea. He believes that it would be a good idea to invite all the candidates for office to the fair, and have them line up in front of the grandstand, where everybody could give them the once over. The idea seems to be a good one, but we'd suggest that the candidates be entered in a sweepstakes race. That would sure draw the crowd.

Seeing four young men crossing the Diamond, wearing large straw hats, and smoking corn cob pipes, Frank Nessel, of South Jefferson street, remarked that he had a tin-type picture at home, made on a piece of tin, of eight sons of veterans, at a picnic at Cascade Park, in 1897. They were smoking corn cob pipes, which were popular at that time. Those in the picture were Thaddeus C. Scott, Albert F. Leathers, Herbert C. Stockman, retired fire chief, John F. Greer, Mahlon S. Clark, James W. Vance, Frank S. Nessel and Charles N. Clark. A year later this group all left for service in the Spanish-American war, in Company B, 16th Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry. ## HATCH BILL GETS HOUSE APPROVAL

Officials when appointments are subject to senate confirmation, from engaging in political activity of any kind.

2. Make it punishable by law for anyone to accept or solicit funds for political purposes from relief workers.

Officials hit under the first ban would include district attorneys, marshals, postmaster and other federal appointees who often in the past have provided the backbone of strength in national conventions for the party or party faction in power, likewise, thousands of federal employees who heretofore have engaged in pre-convention and pre-election campaigns would be barred from future political activity.

Provides Furious Battle
The measure provided one of the most furious battles the house has engaged in this year. Handed the senate approved bill with many of its most stringent features removed by the house judiciary committee, the house not only restored the measure's teeth but added some of its own.

Chief of these was a provision barring from federal jobs persons advocating the violent overthrow of government or belong to a political party subscribing to such doctrines. The house also eliminated a provision which would have reserved to persons affected by the proposed law the right to state their preference for political candidates. Senator Hatch listed the elimination of this proviso as one of the house changes which he desired to study before determining his course in seeking senate action.

EXPECTS POLAND WILL BACK DOWN ON DANZIG ISSUE
of the Reich before any showdown occurs, exerting a modifying influence upon Poland.

"This assumption," he said, "strengthens confidence that Germany will obtain Danzig without firing a shot, just as it got the Sudetenland, Bohemia and Moravia."

No Immediate Move
The spokesman emphasized that Germany itself will make no immediate move calculated to endanger peace. The Reich remains consecrated to the slogan adopted for this year's Nazi party congress at Nuremberg which opens on September 2. The slogan is:

"The Nazi party gathering of Peace."

The spokesman's statement was significant because it was the first full resume of the situation from the official German point of view since Great Britain launched its alleged policy of "encirclement" by extending armed guarantees to Poland.

Poland's Position Clear
Warsaw, July 21.—Poland's position with regard to Danzig is clear—any attempt by Germany to solve the situation by force will be resisted to the utmost authoritative quarters stated today in their first reply to Reichsmineer Adolf Hitler's statement in Berlin.

BUSINESS COLLEGE

Our office is open daily for those who wish to make their enrollment in July. Many far-sighted young people have already enrolled, but we want you, too. A scholarship made in July is $5 cheaper than any other month of the year. We can afford to make this liberal offer as it enables us to save on our newspaper advertising. The New Castle Business College is no longer an experiment. It has stood the test of doing thorough work for nearly 40 years while many other schools, during this time, have come and gone. Our secretarial and commercial subjects are very popular for high school graduates.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

LISTS CAUSE OF STUBBORN-NESS

"Dear Dr. Myers—A little over four years ago, I adopted a little girl over two years old. She was a smart little thing and she would mind every word at once. But as she grew older, about a year and a half ago, she began to see she had a will of her own and wanted to use it. I am glad of that to some extent.

"But she is about seven now and when I tell her to do something, she will say, 'I won't,' or stamp her foot or scream. And it's over the smallest thing usually over what coat or hat she can wear to school. If it's cold, she wants to wear her sweater. She will start before she is dressed in the morning to see what coat or dress she can wear and when I say one, she usually wants another. I have punished her in every way but it does no good. I often wonder whether if I paid no attention to it, she would outgrow it.

Has Tried Hard

"Sometimes I wonder if she does it 'to get my goat' for I am not at all well and it does annoy me a lot. She doesn't do it at all when she knows her daddy is around. And she likes to talk back, to have the last word. She gets along fine in school and loves the work and her teacher. If you could advise me I certainly would appreciate it."

I can see how you are worried for I know you have tried very hard to rear this child right; and it was lovely of you to adopt her. In your eagerness to do well you clearly have supervised too much. She must have several garments to wear a week. Why not let her choose? Better have only one school hat and coat for cold weather and let the thermometer guide in shifting from lighter to heavier hat or coat or vice versa. Then there can be no argument.

Except for the few routine matters, make no positive commands. Make requests in all new situations and give her full opportunity to respond as she likes. In routine matters make one command to last for several months. For delinquency announce a reasonable effective punishment, and see that no violation escapes. Let her have the last word; don't talk back. When you are sure a command is right, stand like Gibraltar, but keep quiet. Discovering you have erred in making it, repeat it with apology, and be more cautious henceforth. When you say No or don't, see that she gets immediate punishment if she does not obey, but rarely use such words. Praise your child more when she is good and show her more affection of a genuine sort. And find more rest and recreation; do take care of yourself, Mother.

SOLVING PARENT PROBLEM

Q. How can I train my four-year-old boy to tell the truth?
A. Don't lie to him. Don't call him a liar, when because of imagination, poor observation or poor memory he errs in a report. Don't punish him for telling the truth. Tempt him not to lie. Don't hold court. Don't be a detective or prosecuting attorney. Don't put him on the witness stand nor make him testify against himself. Courts of justice don't but parents do. Show him more love and affection.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

THE TRUTH OF IT

With Secretary of the Interior Ickes unloading his verbal artillery against newspapers not long ago, and Secretary of Agriculture Wallace last week hailing them "as the best in the world" people may be led to think the value of newspapers is solely a matter of opinion, depending largely on what their commentators had for breakfast.

But such is not the case. An analysis undertaken by a disinterested research organization has measured, in the cool and temperate language of statistics, newspaperdom's progress in presenting an accurate, uncolored picture of history-in-the-making.

After analyzing the contents of the typical metropolitan and small city newspaper of 1889 and 1939, it reports that the average reader gets two hundred fifty to five hundred per cent more information, and with greater accuracy and less bias, than did his grandfather. The actual wordage of education material has gained some one hundred fifty per cent.

The enormous increase of material on health and science, the wealth of explanatory background matter, the columns of nationally known by-line commentators—often expressing views contrary to a newspaper's editorial policy—testify plainly to the effort of newspapers to hold a clear mirror to the world of today.

Let the brickbats and bouquets fall where they may, the evidence speaks for itself.

TODAY'S STORYETTE

Robert C. Lee, shipping magnate, told this story at a New York luncheon:

"Our critics," he said, "remind me of a man who applied for an able-bodied seaman's job on a sailing ship."

"The man didn't look very nautical and the skipper to test his knowledge, asked him:

"Where's the mizzenmast?"
"The man looked around the ship thoughtfully and then answered: 'I dunno, how long has it been missing?'"

The Chamber of Commerce at Cadiz, O., has asked the county commissioners to cover the mattresses on the beds in the jail and have the covers laundered regularly. In most jails the planks the birds sleep on can be scrubbed easily and they need it regularly.

Some men rise up to say "I'll tell you what I think about it," just as though it mattered.

A newly rich woman was trying to make an impression. "I clean my diamonds with ammonia," she said, my rubies with Bordeaux wines, my emeralds with Danzig brandy, and my sapphires with fresh milk."

"I don't clean mine," said the quiet woman sitting next to her. "When they get dirty, I just throw them away."

This also is the time of the year when people should be able to tell a toast from a mushroom. If not sure leave both of them alone.

SOME CONSOLATION

"Will the members please be quiet," shouted the chairman of a meeting recently. "I haven't heard a word I've said since I called the meeting to order."

"That's all right," came a voice from the rear. "You're not missing anything."

A citizen: "My sleep is disturbed every night by grandma coming in late."

If he gets paid for failing, yet often does his best work without hope of pay, his trade is called a profession.

A man and his wife were suffering from seasickness, while the young son became more rowdy by the minute. Finally the mother mustered courage and voice enough to say:

"John, I wish you would speak to Willie."

The father, unable to lift his head, said feebly:

"Hello, Willie."

A matron who plays bridge many afternoons stopped with three women friends at a soda fountain for a refreshing drink. "What will you have?" asked the dapper mixer. The matron answered woefully: "I'll pass."

LAUGH WITH BEATRICE STRANGE

"There's something wrong with this cake, honey," said a young man to his bride; "it doesn't taste right."

"That's your imagination," said the bride; "it says right in the cook book that it's delicious."

Here are some silly signs I have seen hereabouts:

"Chickens dressed for social gatherings, parties, etc."

"Will sell fish and that's the hall-butt."

"If you want to know who is boss around here, just start something."

When you see an auto driver park on the wrong side of the street, you see a bird who pays no attention to any traffic rules anywhere.

When I relax at a first-class hotel with centrally-controlled radio equipment, the crooning and jitter-bugging in the neighboring rooms are automatically silenced at midnight. Then I return home and roll and toss while muttering protests against neighbors who keep their sets braying till one or two and sometimes three. Mary on the east side of me has her sorority sisters in the welkin rinking until two. The sportsman on the west side of me listens to the late wrestling matches and the gay divorcee in the rear apartment croons loudly till one with the torch singers on the night-club programs. And the policeman outside keeps his ears open for disorder on the sidewalks but closes them to disorder within the homes he protects.

Dear Miss Markel—Just how should chaise-longue be pronounced? READER.

Answer—As if it were spelled share long. It is a French word meaning a "long chair." It is not a "lounge," as is popularly supposed.

Answer—Professionally, she is "Dr. Smith," but socially she is "Mrs. Smith."

McNutt Makes Good Impression
Newspapermen Like Recent Talk
Filipino Independence Discussed

By CHARLES P. STEWART

Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, July 21.—Paul V. McNutt, ex-governor of Indiana, recently retired American high commissioner to the Philippines, just appointed federal security administrator and candidate of Franklin D. Roosevelt, doesn't choose to run again for the next Democratic presidential nomination, is a forceful speaker. He addressed the National Press club at a luncheon the other day, and the club consensus was that he is all right oratorically.

To be sure, his remarks were "off the record." It never has been quite clear to me how a public man can talk at all on a strictly "off the record" basis. He addressed the National Press club at a luncheon the other day, and the club consensus was that he is all right oratorically.

The Hoosier is a gingery speaker, anyway, both in substance and manner. Likewise he can tell a good story.

It isn't a secret that he doesn't believe in unqualified independence. He will be a good thing for the Philippines. He said so long before the Press club entertained him—and before he entertained the Press club. Yet there's no denying that a majority of the Filipinos have asked for it. Paul admitted as much. The trouble is, he argued, that children often want things that indulgent parents make a great mistake (for the kids' own good) in granting to them.

Thereupon he illustrated, with one of those yarns of his. I don't think he'd consider it a breach of "off the record" confidence to publish it.

"On my way to Washington," he related, "between Indianapolis and Chicago, a woman, a small child and the child's mother got onto the train. The child was most ebullient. He kept hollering, 'Gimme it! Gimme it!'"

"Each time he did so the mother reproved the nurse, 'Let him have it.'"

"Finally the child sounded off very vehemently."

"Nurse," cried the mother angrily, "I've told you repeatedly to let him have it."

"Madame," answered the nurse, "he's got it."

"And it turned out to be a hornet."

Dispatches from Manila indicate that Paul, as our Philippine commissioner, has converted a lot of Filipinos with these anecdotes.

Two Sides to It

Yet the pro-independence Filipinos have their own side of the story. Some years ago we had in Washington, as a Philippine commissioner, one Pedro Guevara, ardently pro-independence. There was a deal of talk to the effect that the Filipinos weren't "ripe for independence"—weren't educated up to it. I called in at his office to put the question to him.

It was in prohibition days. Senor Guevara was reading a local newspaper. Its first page was simply frescoed with accounts of killings by dry agents, warfare between bootleggers, all sorts of wet-and-dry violence.

Well, I put my query: "Are the Filipinos ripe for self-government?"

"That," replied Senor Guevara, "is our business. You Americans promised it to us. Are you going to keep your promise?"

"Agreed," I acquiesced, "but are you ripe for it?"

Senor Guevara flopped over his newspaper so that I could see the front page of it. "We can beat this," he commented.

Not So Handsome

Paul McNutt has been done an injustice. He's been described as extraordinarily handsome. He isn't any handsomer than lots of New Dealers—or Old Dealers, for that matter. He's physically big and has white hair, but those items oughtn't to be counted against him.

Abraham Lincoln had an ugly mug. Is there any reason for discounting Paul McNutt because, according to some tastes, he happens to be regarded as good looking?

Coldness Of The South

WASHINGTON, July 21.

THERE is convincing evidence that acquiescence in the third-term-for-Roosevelt idea would impose a heavier strain upon and be more difficult to secure in the Democratic South than in any other part of the country. No secret is made of the unpopularity of the suggestion down there and it is significant that the White House engineers of the "draft" movement are not pushing it in that section.

RECOGNIZING the facts spoken for by the radical group around the President have begun to promulgate the theory that in the next campaign, the "solid South" will not be vital because the President will have the "solid West" which they think will more than make up for any Southern defection. It is interesting that already they anticipate "Southern defection." It is also an indication of a certain realism about political matters which up to now has been notably lacking in their calculations.

THERE are several reasons for the coldness toward the third-term business in the South—a coldness reflected in various newspapers in that section and by its representatives in both branches of Congress. One is that while, except in extraordinary times, the South is unshakably Democratic, it is also strongly conservative and the socialist trend of the New Deal hidden under the emergency cloak, never really has appealed to its people. They swallowed the New Deal experiments in the early days because they came from a glamorous Democratic President, but they have increasingly lost taste as the failures have become clear.

PARTICULARLY has the South felt aggrieved over the Wage and Hour legislation, over the Administration alliance with the C. I. O. over tacit approval of the sit-down strikes and over its cotton-control policies which have been little short of disastrous. It is further true that the common sense of the South has revolted against the Roosevelt policies. Fully grasping the futility of the pump priming of the first five years, the determination of the President to continue along the same spending path has not met with favor in the South. That section has not shut its eyes to the perils of the heavy consecutive deficits, the continued unbalanced budgets and the steadily mounting debt—perils stringently emphasized by Mr. Roosevelt himself even as he was trying to reach the White House.

ALL these things are reflected in the attitude of such outstanding Southern Senators as Glass and Byrd of Virginia, Bailey of North Carolina, Smith of South Carolina, George of Georgia, and Harrison of Mississippi. Even Senator Byrnes, close friend of the President as he is, in his heart does not subscribe to the spending theories of the radical group and accepts with difficulty a good many other policies produced by the palace economists. Actually, the only Southern Senator who, without reservation, gulps the whole New Deal dose is for more and greater spending, a third even a fourth term, if possible. —is the ubiquitous Claude Pepper, of Florida, who owes his seat in the Senate to a strange combination of White House support, WPA politicians and Townsend plan voters.

BUT there is another reason, perfectly well known to the practical politicians, for Southern hostility to the third-term idea—the waning New Deal codding of the Negro vote in the Northern states. In the 1936 campaign the Southern people did not really appreciate the game that was being played by the New Deal political managers. Those

BEAUTY CONTEST LIONS' FEATURE

"Miss Pennsylvania, 1939" Is Named In Contest In Pittsburgh Last Night

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, July 21.—"Miss Pennsylvania, 1939." That was the title proudly borne by Miss Ruth Willock today following judging of Pennsylvania's most beautiful girl last night before approximately 10-000 Lions, gathered in convention here.

Last year Miss Willock went to Atlantic City for the famous "Miss America" pageant as "Miss Western Pennsylvania," but was unsuccessful in her efforts to bring home the crown. This will give her another opportunity for the title.

Marilyn Meseke, "Miss America, 1938" was one of the judges of last night's competition.

Annabelle Cherry of Wilkensburg, runner-up in the recent "Miss Pittsburgh" contest, was also runner-up to Miss Willock. Betty Hurst of Slippery Rock took third place in last night's judging.

The Great Game Of Politics

deepest and earliest in it believe—and with reason—that the feat of garnishing through relief funds, Federal patronage, special White House and Cabinet attention and a highly financed drive by the Democratic National Committee, practically the solid Negro vote in eleven Northern States, while at the same time holding the solid South in line, was the slickest piece of politics ever pulled off in America.

SINCE 1936, however, the South has gotten a clearer view of New Deal politics. As a result a considerable number of people in the South who counted themselves ardent Roosevelt fans, feel that somehow they have been played for suckers. In the South, where one way or another the Negroes are discouraged from voting, any alliance between the Democratic organization and Northern Negroes cannot help, but be regarded as a threat to social and civic peace in their section. The basic reasons why the "solid South" has been solid is because the Negroes were wholly in the Republican party and the pressure for equal political and social rights for the Negro came from that party.

BUT it is different now. The influential Negro leaders are pro-Roosevelt—particularly pro-Mrs. Roosevelt—and they operate in and through the Roosevelt Administration. The Negro vote in eleven States was essential to Mr. Roosevelt last time. It would be far more so if he ran again. It has become his indispensable political asset and every clear-thinking politician knows it. Under the circumstances the attitude of the South toward the third term is not hard to understand and it is not surprising the New Deal strategists look more hopefully toward the "solid West."

Asa: A Life Of Trust

Highlights On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

"Help us, O Lord, our God; for we rest on Thee."
—II Chronicles 14:11

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for July 23 is II Chronicles 14 and 16, the Golden Text being II Chronicles 14:11, "Help us, O Lord our God; for we rest on thee.")

King Rehoboam, who was the subject of last week's lesson, "slept with his fathers and was buried in the city of David; and Abijah, his son, reigned in his stead." Abijah did battle against Jeroboam and defeated him and took from him many cities, but he too passed away, and his son Asa, reigned over Judah.

Asa "did that which was right in the eyes of the Lord his God." He broke the images that had been erected to strange gods, took down the altars and cut down the groves. His realm was full of peace for ten years and in that time he built fenced cities with walls, towers, gates and bars so that, the story says, "they built and prospered."

Asa had a good-sized army, but after these peaceful years he was attacked by Zerah, the Ethiopian, who had many more men and chariots than did Asa, the account says a thousand thousand—or a million. It probably means only a great host.

Badly Outnumbered

The two armies faced each other in the valley of Zephathah, at Marashah. So badly outnumbered was Asa that he "cried unto the Lord his God, and said: 'Lord, it is nothing to thee to help, whether with many or with them that have no power: help us, O Lord our God; for we rest on Thee, and in Thy name we go against this multitude.' O Lord, Thou art our God; let not man prevail against Thee."

And the Lord "smote the Ethiopians before Asa and before Judah; and the Ethiopians fled." Thus Asa proved that obedience to what he knew was right and faith in God brought its reward.

But Asa did not all his life obey God as he did in the beginning. After the battle, when his army, with God's help, defeated the Ethiopians, Azariah, son of Obad, was visited by the Spirit of God, and he went to meet Asa and reminded him that while he walked in the way of the Lord he would be successful. "Be ye strong, therefore, and let not your hands be weak; for your work shall be rewarded," he told Asa.

So Asa took courage and put away all the idols, even the one his own mother had set up in a grove, and he even removed her from being queen because of her idol worship. It is said that "the heart of Asa was perfect all his days," and there was no more war until the 35th year of his reign.

Asks Aid Of Syria

In this year, however, Baasha, King of Israel, came and built close to Judah so that Asa could not come out and no one could go in to him. Now, instead of having faith in God that He would help him in this dispute, Asa sent presents to the king of Syria, reminding him of their league, and urging him to break any covenant he might have with Baasha and help him. Asa, and Benhadad, king of Syria, listened and sent his armies against Baasha, attacking many cities, so that Baasha stopped building against Asa and went home.

New Hanani, the seer, heard of this and chided Asa for his lack of faith in calling on the Syrian king instead of on the Lord. Asa was angry with the prophet for this rebuke and put him in prison. On the whole, however, Asa was a very good king and died in the 39th year of his reign.

Faith in God and the ultimate good is a very wonderful thing. Very few seem able to feel it. Many profess faith and say they "cast their burdens on the Lord," but we find them worrying just the same.

If we had a true faith that right would triumph and that God orders our lives and will help in all our troubles, we would never fret, would we?

So Asa slept with his fathers... and they buried him in his own sepulchre, which he had made for himself in the city of David, and laid him in the bed which was filled with sweet odors and divers kinds of spices prepared by the apothecaries' art and they made a very great burning for him."

Jehoshaphat, his son, succeeded him.

ASSASSINS KILL MAN IN TRUCK

Philadelphia Man, Recently Released From Prison, Is Gang Victim

(International News Service) PHILADELPHIA, July 21.—Frank Piccola, 45, identified by police as a small time racketeer who was released from prison last month, was shot to death today at a busy South Broad street traffic intersection.

Piccola was sitting behind the wheel of his small truck, parked in front of Methodist hospital at Broad and Wolf streets, with Frank Campo, another Philadelphia, by his side when other car drew alongside. Without warning the occupant of occupants of the passenger car opened fire and Piccola was struck by several bullets from an automatic pump gun.

Several of the slugs struck his face and he slumped over dead. Campo, who escaped injury, was arrested as a material witness.

According to police records, Piccola was convicted of second degree murder and sentenced in 1930. He was released on parole in June.

AROUND CITY HALL

When council convened in the municipal building Thursday council ordered the city engineer to proceed with the construction of a sidewalk at the J. P. Allen property, Quest street. It was torn up when a garage was built. The sidewalk was not replaced. Since then several accidents have occurred. The cost of the sidewalk will be charged to the property, council said.

Chauncey Davis, sanitary police department, inspected 27 meat and fish markets last month. He made 35 other sanitary inspections and investigated 18 reported nuisance complaints, he reported to council.

Dr. William L. Steen made inspections of 22 samples of drinking water sold by the New Castle Water company and 15 examinations of water taken from privately owned wells and springs during June, he reported to council today. In addition he tested water in pools used for bathing, and also milk sold here.

City council has received from the state department of health a certificate stating that the water in the Cascade Park pool is pure.

Only eight cases of contagion were reported to the city health bureau last month, a report given council shows. Seven patients suffered from whooping cough and the eighth from diphtheria.

Two thousand and twelve tons of garbage were collected and destroyed by fire in the city incinerating plant last month, Edward Umbright, in charge of the garbage bureau, reported to council. In addition 30 loads of tin cans, 54 dead dogs and 29 dead cats, were also collected and disposed of.

LARGE NUMBER LAST NIGHT AT TABERNACLE

Thursday evening the fourth annual Bible conference of the Calvary Tabernacle on the East Side witnessed its largest week night service. Rev. R. J. Fredericks, the tabernacle leader, says that the outstanding feature and attraction this week is the forceful and challenging expositions being given by Rev. S. Franklin Logsdon, prominent youthful pastor of the Bethel Baptist Temple in Erie. The subject tonight: "The Servant's Incentive to Serve." Rev. Logsdon will be heard Saturday evening, Sunday afternoon and evening.

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

Trying To Aid Flood Victims

Mr. And Mrs. H. H. Hettenbaugh To Handle Contributions In This Area

In order to aid some of the flood-stricken families in the mountain areas of Kentucky, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hettenbaugh of 707 North Cedar street, will serve as a deposit depot here, and send any contributions to the needy people.

On July 5, a cloudburst in the district of Mt. Carmel washed out an area that was quite thickly populated. Many lost their lives and many more lost everything that they owned.

Under the sponsorship of the Kentucky Mountain Holliness association, an appeal is being made for clothing and monetary sums. Mrs. Hettenbaugh will be glad to take care of any offers, just call 2105-M, or stop at her home.

NEWS BRIEFS IN WARD DISTRICT

Two queen bees enroute to a Seventh Ward bee keeper passed thru the Mahoningtown post office on Thursday afternoon. The bees were contained in clever little boxes, provided with air holes.

It has been noticed along Montgomery avenue, in the 200 block, that there are quite a number of attractive lawns. Evidently the people along this street take a little pride in their property.

Since the sewer was installed on Rabbitt avenue and South First street, the street has been in rather rough condition. The sewer went down along one side of the thoroughfare and the dirt has not had time to settle yet.

Painters at the Universal Sanitary Pottery company have made a great improvement in the exterior appearance of the building.

Ditches along the rural roads, just outside the ward are being kept clear of weeds this year. The state highway department workmen go along at various intervals and cut the weeds.

Several transformers have arrived at the new sub-station on Cedar street and are being put in place by the workmen. Structural steel work is still being erected at the site.

SEVENTH WARD PERSONALS
Joseph Douglas of West Cherry street is somewhat improved, after an illness, and is able to be about the house some each day.
Miss Angeline Castrucci, of West Madison avenue, is spending a week's vacation in Detroit, Mich., where she is visiting friends.
Charlotte Hoke, North Liberty street, has been discharged from the Jameson Memorial hospital.

Committee Plans Annual Picnic

Plan For Family Outing On August 2—Program Is Worked Out For Day

At a meeting of the various committees for the Seventh Ward Progressive club, held Thursday evening, final plans were made for the family picnic of the organization. The event will be held at Idora Park on Sunday, July 30.

At the meeting, a fine sports program was worked out for the day. This will include a mulligan game played by the Progressive club team. Patsy Farone is general chairman for the committee, and he is being aided by Clem Pelosi. Nick Calvanese is transportation committee chairman. Sam Pedro heads the sports committee and Patsy Donofrio will be in charge of the refreshments.

SEVENTH WARD PERSONALS
Miss Vivian Gilmore, West Cherry street, has returned home from a camping trip at the summer home of Miss Betty Jane Davis, near Slippery Rock.

CHURCH LEAGUE MEETING MONDAY

There will be a meeting at the Y Monday night at 8:30 o'clock of all churches interested in continuing the church softball league for the second half. All teams interested must have representatives at the meeting. Whether or not there is a second half to the league will depend on the turnout Monday.

WPA Strike Brings Issues Out In Open Says Roger Babson

By ROGER W. BABSON
(Copyright, 1939, Publishers Financial)

GLOUCESTER, Mass., July 21.—I am glad that we have had the WPA strike. I have felt right along that it would take some sensational episode such as this to bring the government to its senses on the labor issue. We could never have solved our unemployment problems so long as the old WPA wage rates were in existence. Hence, President Roosevelt is to be congratulated on his action. The labor situation is like a boil that can be cured only as it comes to a head.

The strike of the tool and die workers in General Motors' plants will also aid in bringing the labor problem to a head. The National Labor Relations Board was intended to promote peace between employers and workers. It has not done so. Rather, it has fanned the fires of the labor civil war and has added to the sufferings of employees as well as of employers—particularly those in the automobile industry. Now, just as the motor-makers are engaged in the vital job of re-tooling their machines for 1940 models, the CIO tool workers are breaking their contract. They are striking again in order to try to "freeze" their A. F. of L. rivals out of the auto business.

Employers' Hands Tied
Until recently, employers could not petition the National Labor Relations Board for an election to find out which of two opposing unions should become the bargaining agency for their plant. These rival labor groups would get into a plant and each would loudly claim they represented a majority of the workers, but neither side would dare resort to an election. One faction would start a "wild cat" strike one day and the other group would retaliate with another strike the next day. Meanwhile, the employers were sewed up tighter than a drum by the NLRB.

Up until a month ago, however, Washington had done nothing to stop this nonsense. Now, a new rule has been adopted which allows employers to petition for an election. Public opinion is solidly behind this change. Because of the growing wave of public sentiment against the board's policies and against unionizing tactics, the labor situation should now take a turn for the better. Labor leaders are crazy to kick up another rampus with the motor-makers because the average citizen is sick and tired of all this yapping and bickering between the two labor camps.

WPA Strike Ridiculous
The WPA "strike," however, is the "pay-off." While no one begrudges helping our unemployed, everyone is disgusted with this WPA "strike." The background of the flare-up is important. In 1935, labor leaders forced the "prevailing wage rate" clause into the WPA program in order to prevent a "break-down in the American standard of living." Top monthly compensation for each district was announced and skilled craftsmen "toiled" only enough hours at the "prevailing wage rate" to reach this monthly amount.

A plumber, for instance, whose union wage rate is $2 an hour, might work only two days per week, or 60 hours per month, to get his monthly check. Thus, he has plenty of time to do odd work, "to look around for a private job" and to take life easy generally. Many people believed that we would never employ the WPA rolls if we continued this lenient policy. Furthermore, these people were getting worried over the fact that we have bigger relief rolls today than in the very pit of the depression and that it is costing us twice as much for relief as in 1933 or 1934.

WPA Criticism Growing
Criticism of WPA has grown rapidly in recent months. Congress has now dictated that this "prevailing wage rate" business be stopped and that WPA skilled workers be forced to "labor" at a lower hourly rate. Their monthly pay envelope will contain just as much money, but they will have to work 130 hours per month. WPA skilled artisans have balked at this change, even though the new set-up is in the best interests of the nation as a whole. The A. F. of L. also opposes the new ruling because they consider it is a direct attack on the "caste" system of wages used by them for years. This system has been one of the big reasons why building has failed to do its share toward recovery and re-employment. A special government committee under Thurman Arnold is now engaged in a monopoly "hunt" in the building industry. Personally, I think Mr. Arnold will find that certain union wage scales and other union policies are largely to blame for exorbitant building costs.

How To End WPA
When all is said and done, three steps are necessary if we ever expect to get rid of the WPA even under good business conditions. First, we must pay as low a wage as possible on WPA in order to encourage workers to get into private jobs as soon as private jobs are available. Second, chronic relievers must temporarily be purged from the voting lists in order to prevent WPA from becoming an all powerful political organization. Third, WPA workers must be taught to have less children, while non-welfare workers must be encouraged to have more children. Today, it looks as though we have made a good start on step No. 1.

The present labor situation is a good illustration of the fact that the Law of Action and Reaction works in human relations and in economics just as it does in physics, astronomy and other sciences. A few years ago, the public rightfully had great sympathy for wage workers. However, a succession of episodes, such as the current General Motors and WPA strikes, has been swinging the pendulum of public opinion away from unions. Labor was not given as good a "break" as it should have had ten years ago. For the past three years, it has had too much power. Maybe by 1941 or 1942 we will strike a sensible balance in our employer-employee relations.

Make Final Plans For Summer Camp Of Local Girl Scouts

Permanent Camp Committee
Outlines Details For Camp
Which Opens Next Month

Members of the Permanent Camp Committee of Girl Scouts of New Castle, Inc. met at the summer home of Mrs. Robert E. Armstrong of the Covert Mill road, when final details were checked for the permanent summer camp at Transfer, Pa., opening August 12.

Mrs. W. H. Hanger, chairman of the committee called for reports on each phase of the camp program from the different sub chairmen. Folders have been distributed to all Girl Scouts, it was reported by Mrs. Andrew Dodds, and Miss Della A. Glenn, in charge of the health of the camp, reported that Miss Lucille Call had been engaged as nurse and that health examinations will be given by Dr. Charles H. Whalen and Dr. John P. Piroletti on August 7.

The camp finances were reported on by Mrs. Armstrong, and the daily menu as outlined by the dietitian was submitted by Mrs. Albert Trener.

It was decided that girls would be permitted to go with their friends in the different cabins wherever it was possible to arrange this. Different members of the camp committee will be in the Girl Scout office in the Greer Building from August 1 to August 13 during the morning to give out information on the camp and take last minute reservations. The counsellors will go to Camp Klondashawa to prepare for the camp opening on August 10.

Dr. Dafoe's Column On The Quintuplets And The Care Of Your Children

Copyright 1938, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

DR. DAFOE EXPLAINS PURPOSE OF INTERSTITIAL FEEDINGS

In the last two days we have discussed two types of infant diarrhea that seem to coincide with hot weather. As we have seen, the greatest danger to babies is in the amount of water taken from their systems through vomiting and by diarrhea.

When you see a child who has been suffering from diarrhea for several days, it isn't hard to tell that he suffers from loss of water. The eyes are sunken, the skin is dry and hangs in folds; when the skin over the abdomen is picked up between thumb and forefinger it will not snap back into place it should when it is released. The skin and the sub-cutaneous tissues have a rubbery feel.

The first move in the treatment of the condition should take place when the child shows the first symptoms. At this time he should be taken off his regular feeding and placed on clear fluids. Before you take such a step, however, you would be foolish not to consult your doctor. He will tell you the best fluid diet for your child. These fluid diets generally consist of water and sugar. A mixture of two table-spoons of sugar and two of corn syrup diluted with a good deal of water is also a good fluid for the baby. These feedings should not be given at the regular four intervals, as foods usually are. Instead, fill a bottle with the mixture your doctor advises and keep it beside the baby at all times. Then, at least one an hour, offer him a drink. In this way, even though he only takes an ounce at a time, the baby will take a lot of fluid into his system in the course of a day. If you get the baby to take some every half hour it is even better. These babies are nearly always hungry so it isn't hard to get them to drink. The unfortunate part of it is that too often babies with this illness vomit practically everything they take, fluid or not.

When this crisis develops we must employ other and more drastic methods of administering the fluids. Usually, if the vomiting persists your doctor will want to take the child to a hospital, for in these institutions they have ways of giving fluids which cannot be employed in the home.

The first of these is subcutaneous. A long needle is inserted under the skin in the region of the abdomen or back. A long rubber tube attached to the needle, connects to a glass reservoir. The fluid from the reservoir runs through the needle into the tissues under the skin. The procedure is known as interstitial feeding. If the baby is badly dehydrated, the hospital will give him about 3 of these injected daily and thus from ten to fifteen cubic centimeters of fluid per pound of body weight is injected. The fluid used in the interstitials is a mixture of sugar, salts and water, supplying the baby with these three ingredients in the proper amounts.

BUSINESS NOW SHOWING GAIN

Pittsburgh District Report
Shows Marked Advance
In Business Recently

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, July 21.—Business in the Pittsburgh district advanced sharply in practically all lines of economic activity last week, the Bureau of Business Research of the University of Pittsburgh, reported today.

After allowance for the usual seasonal changes, the index of general business shot up from 82.0 per cent of the 1923-25 average in the week ended July 8 to 86.9 per cent last week, a gain of almost five points.

The index last week was only about half a point below the peak of the year reached in the week ended April 1. In other words, nearly all the ground lost in April and early May because of the labor dispute in the coal industry has been recovered and further gains—at a slower rate—are expected in coming weeks.

EXPECT TO SPUR FAIR ATTENDANCE

World's Fair Officials Make
Plans To Increase
Gate Receipts

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, July 21.—A decided spurt in lagging attendance this week end was anticipated by New York World's Fair officials today as another slash in admission prices became effective.

Headquarters to public criticism, the fair's board of directors voted to sell 1,000,000 combination books, each carrying a bonus of ten free admissions to amusements with five regular admissions to the fair. The combination books, with a total value of $7, will be sold for $3.75, the price of the five admissions.

As a concession to the loudly complaining concessionaires in the amusement area, the directors cut the admission rate to 40 cents after 9:30 at night when all sections of the fair except the amusements close.

Camp East Brook Girls Packing Bags

After Program Tonight, Girls Will Depart; Last Period To Begin Monday

Early this evening the parents and relatives of a half hundred young girl campers will assemble at Camp East Brook for a program which will close another ten-day camp period. The Y. W. C. A. camp will be cleaned over the week end, and on Monday afternoon a new throng of girls will take over.

The program at 6 o'clock this evening will include dancing on the lawn, toy orchestra music, and a puppet show based on the "Tajar Tales." Featured puppet players will be a ranger, a witch and a tajar. A tajar is, so they say, "something like a tiger and something like a jaguar." Sounds kind of gruesome. This writer would rather be than see one.

At 7 o'clock there will be a swimming demonstration. Advance swimmers will show the American crawl, back crawl, breast stroke, front diving, swan, jackknife and half twist diving; intermediate class swimmers will demonstrate endurance, plain swimming and diving; beginners will demonstrate the jelly fish float, prone glide, back glide and doggy paddle.

One of the features at camp this period is the newspaper, "Camp Gossip," just published (by mimeo-graph.) Dottie Wallace was editor, Fannie Davis, assistant, Nettie Mann, adviser and Lois Leach, typist.

Here is the editorial found in the newspaper:

"Camp this year was more fun than ever before, or so it seems to the campers. The counselors here have done much to make the time memorable. They are all grand sports. We hope to see you all next year and thanks for a swell time. Don't forget Camp East Brook."

"No; we just left our house doors open, removed the window screens, and got the same effect."

Strive To Regain Lost Industries In Pennsylvania

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, July 21.—Endeavoring to regain lost Pennsylvania industries, the newly-organized Pennsylvania commission on interstate cooperative institutions a dual investigation today into trade barriers affecting employment, wages and production in the commonwealth.

Richard P. Brown, secretary of commerce and chairman of the commission of 15, including five senators, five representatives, and five members chosen by Gov. Arthur H. James, declared that the commerce department would study the effect of the other states' restrictions on the employment status in Pennsylvania.

Meanwhile, the department of justice, through Attorney General Claude T. Reno, promised an inquiry into laws that 30 states now have on their statute books forbidding award of public contracts to any but "home" companies.

GRAHAM VOTES FOR N.L.R.B. PROBE

Investigating Resolution Is Passed By House By Vote
Of 253 To 135

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Special Washington Correspondent, New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 21.—Representative Louis R. Graham of Beaver voted for the resolution passed by the House this week directing a special House committee to investigate the National Labor Relations board and its administration of the labor relations act.

The resolution was opposed by Democratic leaders. It won approval, however, by a 253 to 135 vote when many Democrats joined with Republicans in supporting it. Members supported it largely because they were dissatisfied with the manner in which the House labor committee delayed action on this session on proposed amendments to the labor relations act.

The probe will be conducted this summer by a special committee to be named by the speaker of the House.

Golden Gloves Champion Takes Columbo's Role

Dawkins Scheduled To Box Jarosick; Secrete Battles Kowalik

BUCK CHAMBERS TO BOX JACKSON

Making matches for a pugilistic club is a headache. It is a job filled with grief as anyone who ever has filled such a role realizes fully. At the very minute that a matchmaker lolls back in a chair and believes he has a swell match made something is apt to go wrong and when things do go awry he must do things all over again.

The chap who is finding this out is Tommy Leach of the Jefferson A. C. Thursday he rested content with a Sparky Jarosick vs. Frankie Columbo match. Early this morning there arrived a telegram which spread the news that Columbo, Salem, W. Va., collegiate champion had a boil on one of his legs.

This sent a chill through Tommy. However, he got busy and turned up at noon with a fighter, more regarded fictitiously than Columbo to take his place against Jarosick in the Arena, Monday night. He is George Dawkins, 175-pound Golden Gloves champion of Pittsburgh. He is said to be the cream of his class in Pittsburgh rings.

It took no little effort to induce Dawkins to accept the match with Jarosick but those who know him have informed the Jefferson A. C. they may see as many boxing gloves as are found in a sports road store when the bell rings. He goes right to work and ceases only when the last bell sounds.

Jarosick came here a stranger but was no stranger very long to Mickey Rubin. According to those who witnessed the fight he deserved the decision over the local swinger. If Jarosick can beat the Golden Gloves champ of Pittsburgh he will be doing something, not done recently.

Be-rounder vs. Sluggers
The Sammy Secrete-Stevie Kowalik battle shapes up as a "natural". It will be a case of boxer vs. fighter. Secrete, the Diamond Belt champion, knows how to box and step. Kowalik knows how to tear in and whine away. He is one of the stufest punchers who has yet fought here.

The rest of the card looks inviting. The Regis O'Brien vs. Pete Spotti, 138 pound scrap should be filled with action and Buck Chambers, the West Pittsburgh slugger who will substitute for Larry Regal of Butler, hopes to beat Terry Jackson of Youngstown.

Billy Rale, Castletown, will oppose Al Starevic of Youngstown at 160; Howard Taylor, Cecil, will oppose Frankie Pettit, a Pittsburgh boy who beat Jack Sawyer; Ray Atkinson, of Ellwood City will exchange blows with Garf Thompson, of Youngstown, at 150 pounds, and Mickey Sica, New York, will box Pete Misto of Youngstown, at 138 pounds.

The Trades & Labor assembly will realize money from the show Monday to buy furniture for their rooms, it was said today by President Ralph Audino. The assembly is firmly behind the promotion and expects to be supported by all persons affiliated with the body.

"Old roosters were very quiet," Herald-Tribune market report. They always get that way when stocks are down and taxes up.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Lou Nova and Tony Galento will exchange punches in Philadelphia, September 7. Either Arthur Donovan or George Blake, out-of-staters, will referee. To bring the fight to Pennsylvania the state athletic commission had to give a point and the point in question was the referee. Pennsylvania has capable referees. However, in lean times and figuring on the five per cent from the gross receipts the state will get, the commission will permit a third man mission will permit to handle the fight, which may draw $250,000. In Pittsburgh there is talk of a Billy Conn-Gus Lesnevich fight. Lesnevich stopped Dave Clark of Detroit in a round recently. Johnny Ray is said to be not overly fond of Ray Fouts, matchmaker for the Art Rooney-Barney McGinley combination. He may refuse to sign with Fouts. However, if the purse offered Conn is satisfactory, it is likely Johnny will forget any peeve he may have. Ray took offense to the boohing Conn received at a recent Pittsburgh show. This developed from the fact that Teddy Yarosz was on the card. Fouts formerly was his manager. There always has been rivalry between them with some fans firing boos and the fighters firing punches.

Cumberland race meet will get under way August 9 and end August 19. Harry Craft of the Reds is out of the game because of a sore throat. Charles Hartwig, former Pitt football coach, will coach Martins Ferry O. high school griders. Jack Crawford, the Australian, gained the semi-finals of the Longwood Bowl tennis tourney at Brookline, Mass., by beating Gardner Mulrow of Coral Gables, Fla., 7-5, 6-1, U. S. Davis cup player, Saturday. Today, Adrian Quist, Australia, and Bobby Low, Los Angeles, will meet in a semi-final match.

Anderson Pitches Slovaks To Victory

Outpitches Veteran Coen And Lamm At Flats Field In 5 To 3 Victory

Leroy Anderson hung up his tenth straight city league victory last night at Clifton Flats field, pitching the Slovak club into a 5 to 3 victory over the Elder A. C. team before a big crowd.

The victory keeps the Slovaks in the runner-up spot to the Lawrence Indies, the league leaders. Coen and Lamm did the Elder pitching and were found for six hits. Anderson permitted just three hits in the abbreviated game.

The Elders walked off the field in the sixth inning over a decision made by Umpire Bennie Price, and refused to continue play. Leading the Slovaks in hitting were Mike Budai with two doubles, and Majeski, Anderson and Koszela with doubles also. P. Coulter had the only double for the Elders.

Galento-Nova Sign For Bout On September 7

Philadelphia Will Be Scene Of Heavyweight Bout; Winner To Meet Joe Louis

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, July 21.—Tony Galento, who by taking a licking, gained the respect he couldn't get by winning, and Lou Nova, recent conqueror of Max Baer, Thursday were signed for a 15-round bout at the Philadelphia Municipal stadium the night of September 7.

Each fighter will receive 25 per cent of receipts from tickets selling at from $2 to $10 a piece and neither will appear in any ring previous to the night of their battle at the massive stadium, scene of the first Dempsey-Tunney bout.

The contract for the bout, under the joint sponsorship of Herman Taylor of Philadelphia and Mike Jacobs of New York, was signed in the presence of Pennsylvania's three man boxing commission, which agreed to name an outside referee.

The latter will be either George Boake, of California, or Arthur Donovan of New York, and the final selection will be announced one week before the bout.

Bonds Posted

Neither Galento nor Nova were present, the details being handled by their respective managers—Joe Jacobs and Ray Carlen—who agreed to post $1,000 bonds each.

Leon Rains, Philadelphia member, announced the boxing commission's decision to appoint an outsider as the third man in the ring. "While we would prefer to have a Pennsylvanian for referee," said Rains, "we agreed to an outsider because both sides want it."

Taylor, Philadelphia's leading fight promoter, announced that tentative plans call for Galento to train at Blairtown, N. J., and Nova at Atlantic City, with the winner of their encounter to face the victor of the Joe Louis vs. Bob Pastor fight.

The latter are to battle for the championship at Detroit in a 20-rounder on September 20.

Pirates Again Defeat Giants

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, July 21.—It isn't often that a mayor of a minor league baseball town has a voice in the destiny of a major league pennant race, such as Frank Hague—mayor-like boss of Jersey City—exercising today in the National League.

Hague exercised his peculiarly unique privilege when he refused to let the crippled New York Giants recall some of their farm hands from the Jersey City club which they own, and whom they desperately need.

How desperately the injury-riddled Giants need replacements was shown yesterday when they dropped their sixth straight game, the Pirates taking them, 8-4. Chuck Klein ran his hitting streak to 19 straight games.

Bees Top Cubs
In the only other game in the National, the Bees again edged out the Cubs, 2-1.

And in the other circuit, the Red Sox, going from bad to worse, dropped their second straight shut-out and their fourth consecutive game to the battling White Sox, 4-0. The Indians had one big early inning in which they made enough runs to give the veteran Mel Harder a 3-2 decision over the Athletics and the Senators outscored the Tigers, 8-7, despite homers by Averill, Cullenbine and Greenberg.

And, oh yes, with Red Ruffing yielding only four hits, those terrible Yankees won their eighth straight by trimming the Browns, 2-1.

BOUNDARY LINES OF LAWRENCE COUNTY

On April 5, 1849, the state commissioners selected as surveyor to run the boundary line, Mr. Henry Pearson, with John Watson and Harvey Tibball as chain bearers, and Henry C. Falls as axeman. Warner Pearson, son of Henry, then a lad of 11 years, was also with the party during the entire survey. The commissioners of Beaver and Mercer counties accompanied the party in the survey which occupied four weeks time.

The Lawrence county commissioners elected in the autumn of 1849 were John K. Swisher, John Randolph and James Oliver. The population of the new county at the time of its organization was by U. S. census 21079.

At the first election the following officials were chosen: Sheriff, David Emery; prothonotary and clerk of courts, James D. Clark; treasurer, Joseph Justice; register and recorder, James McClane; county auditors, Isaac P. Rose, William Work, A. Galloway; coroner, John L. Warnock.

Hon. John Bredin was president judge of courts, with Hon. Jacob Bear and Charles T. Whippo as associates.

The first election for judges was held Oct. 14, 1851, when Hon. Daniel Agnew, later chief justice of the supreme court of the state, was elected judge, with John Reynolds and James Henry his associates.

The office of law judge was created by the new constitution in 1873.

FIRST COURTS

The first court held in Lawrence county convened at the First M. E. church in New Castle on Monday, Jan. 7, 1850. It was presided over by Hon. John Bredin, assisted by Hon. Jacob Bear. The attorneys admitted to practice at that time, residents of Lawrence county, were Jonathan Ayres, L. L. McGuffin, J. K. Boyd, David Craig, Lewis Taylor, W. P. Buchanan, D. B. Kurtz, J. H. Hoffman, D. C. Cossitt, John M. Crawford, George W. Watson, John N. McGuffin and James Pollock.

The population of Lawrence county at the time of its organization in 1849 was 21079 persons, including 132 colored, and of New Castle 1614 persons including 51 colored. In 1860 population of the county was 22999 persons, New Castle 1882. In 1870 the county had 27298 and New Castle 6184 inhabitants.

August 22, 1849, was a great day in New Castle. President Zachary Taylor and Governor Johnston of Pennsylvania were in town on their way from Beaver to Mercer. A signal gun on Shaw's Hill at 5:30 p. m. announced their arrival at Lock No. 1. The president was honored by a parade with a military escort arranged by a citizens' committee. Col. William Beck was chief marshal, assisted by William P. Reynolds, George W. Crawford, Lot Wil-son, D. B. Kurtz, John Morehead and Robert Wallace. Speech of welcome by David Craig, Esq. Mrs. Rebekah McKee, clerk in the prothonotary's office, is back at her desk after a week's vacation.

There are at present about 125 inmates of the county home, according to Welfare Director M. B. Hogue. The number has been cut down considerably during the past year, owing to the granting of old age pensions.

John H. Cross has filed a summons in trespass at the prothonotary's office against the Penn-Ohio Apron and Supply Company. The statement of claim will be filed later.

The Pittsburgh Company has filed an action in ejectment against Dwight and Nora Beachem, to secure possession of a property in Wayne township, which defendants have had under lease.

Sheriff M. M. Ingham has quite an array of photographs in his rogue's gallery. The pictures are of persons wanted in various parts of the country for crimes. Each picture is accompanied by a description, and in some instances the finger prints are also given.

There has been quite a rush to pay taxes at the county treasurer's office this week by persons who are anxious to get the discount allowed this month.

County assessors in a number of districts have been authorized by the county commissioners to begin work on the triennial assessment. The districts where the assessors are at work are: the various wards of the City of New Castle, Ellwood City, and the townships of Hickory, Mahoning, Neshannock, North Beaver, Shenango and Union. Assessors will start to work on the other boroughs and township of the county on September 1st.

With the starting of an addition to the Lawrence county court house and the purchase and re-modeling of the Boyles properties, grand juries will be able to take a much needed rest. For years back the grand juries have been either recommending a new court house, or improvements to the old one. It became so common to see such recommendations, that very little attention was paid to them, but perseverance has finally led to success and the county will soon have all the room necessary for the next fifty or one hundred years. There are few counties in the state that can boast of any better court house than we will have when the improvements are completed. And best of all there will be no big debt hanging over it, which would have been the case had a new court house been erected.

Clerks in the county commissioners' office are writing up assessments for the county assessors. The books for the county assessors. The clerks put in the description of properties as shown by the last assessment, leaving a blank space for the assessor to make his valuation. Where there has been a change in ownership, the assessor can note it under the description. Under the law the boundaries of all properties assessed have to be given.

Recent rains do not seem to have penetrated the soil very deeply. Earth removed for new sidewalks at the court house is almost as dry as powder.
